BOSCPUG to Host Conversation with Sundance Co-Founder, Filmmaker Cirina Catania

Tuesday, October 7th, 2014 | Author: OWC NewsFeed

We've shared some of filmmaker and OWC SSD user Cirina Catania's projects here on the Rocket Yard including her documentaries on a cat-hung family and Corporal Kionte Storey. Now you can get a chance to interact with the Sundance co-founder and writer/director/producer at the Boston Creative Pro User Group on Oct. 14.

Catania will take questions as part of a conversation on her creativity and community scene. Catania also will screen footage from her films, including her forthcoming documentary about wounded hero turned athlete Kionte Storey, and discuss her process of filmmaking, share experiences on the road in her work and advice for all filmmakers with projects that need pitching, marketing, distribution and building an audience.

There will also be a raffle where attendees will get a chance to take home great OWC products including NewerTech NuTouch Gloves, Universal Drive Adapters and a portable 240GB Pro EX SSD solution. Of course, Catania trusts OWC SSDs when shooting.

For more information on the BOSCPUG, check out this link: bosfcpug.org/next-meeting/

On Set: The one-person cinematography crew, Cirina Catania, captures Kionte Storey's thoughts, experiences and new life using a Blackmagic Cinema Camera and OWC's Pro 6G SSD.
